Section 1: Background

General information

The Atafu Atoll Profile is one of the profiles prepared for each of the three Tokelauan atolls. These profiles introduce some of the topics covered in the 2006 Tokelau Census of Population and Dwellings.

The atoll profile provides basic comparisons between an atoll and Tokelau as a whole but does not compare the atolls with one another. If you would like to know more about a topic found in the profile please refer to one of the more detailed census reports. Information on the other census reports can be found at the end of this profile.

Usually Resident Population Present in Tokelau on Census Night Count

Usually resident population present in Tokelau on Census night counts are counts of all people who usually live in Tokelau, and were present in Tokelau on census night.

These counts exclude visitors from overseas and exclude residents who are temporarily overseas on census night. Residents who are in Tokelau and were away from their usual address (i.e. on another atoll) on census night, are allocated back to the atoll where they usually live and form part of the usually resident population present in Tokelau on Census night count of that atoll.

While the other population counts will mainly provide national and atoll population counts, it is the usually resident population present in Tokelau on Census night count that will be used for most of the detailed analysis. This is because we have full information for these respondents as they have been interviewed using the standard census form. Data in Sections 4 to 6 in this report use this population as its base.
